

To Whom It May Concern

July 21, 2004

I have known Robert Lombardi of Lombardi Builders for the last 5 years. Robert and his company did an excellent job in putting a significant addition to our house. I found Robert to be a very honest, conscientious, and hard working individual. His company completed my job on time and within budget. Since that time, I have developed a friendship with Robert and also have found him to be involved in local community affairs. His company has been doing a remarkable job in the local area and under Robert's able stewardship, it has made tremendous progress in the last several years.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Arvind Goel', is positioned above the typed name.
